a. Census Search Tips

- First & Middle Name and Last Name fields have exact matching options that will appear when data has been entered.
  - The fields allow for wildcards (*, ?)
  - Can use two last names in the Last Name field.
- Add Birth or Any Event Year and/or Location information.
- Add Lived In location information.
- Exact matching options will appear for location fields on this search page when data is entered.
- Add Family Members information (Father, Mother, Sibling, Spouse, Child).
- Enter data in the Keyword field for additional specificity (occupation, religion, landmark, etc.) using “double quotes” for phrase searching.
- Specify Gender.
- Specify Race/Nationality (e.g. Native American)
- Click “Clear Search” to empty the search fields and start a new search.

b. Using Wildcards in Census Searches

- If you want to search for names that differ only by one letter, use the question mark (?) wild card. A search for Johns?n will return both Johnsen and Johnson.
- You can search alternate spellings with the asterisk *, which represents 0 to 5 unknown characters. The query Johann* will search for Johann and Johannes. A query for Smel*er will search for Smeltzer and Smelzer, among others.
- You can now put a wild card first, such as *son or ?athew to catch all spellings and variations.
- Either the first or last character must be a non-wild card character. For example, Han* and *son are okay, but not *anso***.
- Names must contain at least three non-wild card characters. For example, Ha*n is okay, but not Ha***
- Example: If you type in *Ann**, this will match names such as Ann, Anne, Anna, or Annabelle. And if you type in Ann?, this will match names such as Anne or Anna but not Ann or Annabelle.

c. Using Keywords in Census Searches

- As you go further into the past, you may notice that although the city in which your ancestor lived remains unchanged, the county or parish borders around the city may have shifted. Rather than entering the city in the Location field, try entering it as a keyword. If you know the street address of an ancestor, the best place to put this is in the keyword field.
- You can use a combination of places and the keyword field to help find historical locations that have moved. For example, some counties originated in Virginia but later were in West Virginia, and some Parishes also moved from one county to another. Using different locations from the location field, select the state you want for the historical record.

Family Histories

The biographical sketches and oral histories of other people may give insights into what life was like for your ancestor. You'll also find a record of events that had a profound impact locally, but don't merit a mention in other history books. If your ancestor had any interaction with the subject of a biography, you may even find a mention of him in the publication.

Place Histories

Social and place histories will typically contain descriptions of geographic features, transportation routes, and the economy of the area. They can also include historical information on seats of government, public institutions (e.g., prisons, schools, etc.), churches, and charitable institutions. Migration patterns are often mentioned, particularly in relation to the settlement of the area.

were admitted to practice. The first jury trial west of Herkimer county was held at this court, the case being the trial of an indictment for stealing a cow bell. John Wickham was District Attorney, but the prosecution was conducted by N. W. Howell, the defense by Vincent Matthews and Peter B. Porter.

General Israel Chapin first represented this district in the Legislature, and Robert Morris first in Congress. Luther Cole carried the mail in his pocket from here to Whitestown; Phineas Bates took the same west to Niagara Falls. The first birth was that of Oliver Phelps Rice, the first death that of Caleb Walker. Both occurred in 1790. The first store was opened by Samuel Gardner; the first school taught by Major Wallis in '92. The first religious service held here was the Episcopal burial service read at Walker's funeral. However, in this same year, the record tells us, regular meetings were held in Mr. Phelps' barn, services being read by John Cole, singing by Mrs. Sanborn. Prayers were omitted, as there was no one to make them.

The first wheat was raised on a farm through which Gibson street now runs by Abram Barlow and taken by him to Utica to mill. Barlow street was the name first given to what is now Gibson street, a name far more appropriate than the present one. Dr. Williamson settled here as a physician in '93. William Antis came through from Pennsylvania and got up a gun shop, which at that time was quite as needful as stated preaching. Some trade for furs sprang up. John Jacob Astor, the founder of the family millions, was lost in the woods near Geneva while seeking furs and pelts from the Indians and was rescued in time to be the ancestor of one who foreswore the country where those millions were made. Explorers and traders of all nations penetrated into the settlement, and in their trading, not only with the settlers, but with the Indians, there had grown an organization of the town. The following is directly from the first record :

"Canandaiguay Records," 1791. At a town meeting held at Canandaiguay, in the County of Ontario, on the first Tuesday in April, 1791, the meeting being opened and superintended by General Israel Chapin, these several persons were elected into office: Israel Chapin, supervisor; James D. Fish, town clerk. Assessors, John Case, Enos Boughton, Seth Reed, Nathan Comstock, James Austin, Arnold Potter and Nathaniel Justin; also Phineas Bates and John Coddington. Overseers of the Poor, Jared Chapin and Nathaniel Gor-

About U.S. City Directories, 1821-1989

This database is a collection of directories for U.S. cities and counties in various years. The database currently contains directories for all states except Alaska.

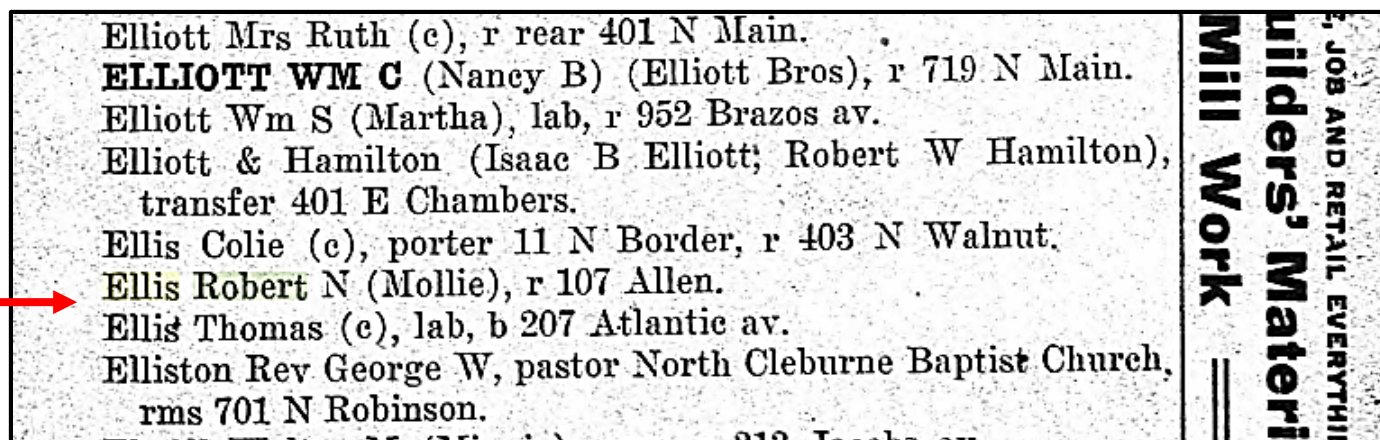

Generally a city directory will contain an alphabetical list of citizens, listing the names of the heads of households, their addresses, and occupational information. Sometimes a wife's name will be listed in parentheses or italics following the husband's. Other helpful information might include death dates for individuals who had been listed in the previous year's directory, names of partners in firms, and forwarding addresses or post offices for people who had moved to another town.

THOMAS WELLS.

MARCH 2, 1866.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. THORNTON, from the Committee of Claims, made the following ### REPORT.

The Committee of Claims, to whom was referred the case of Thomas Wells, made the following report:

That, in this case, the property destroyed for which compensation is prayed was situate in Columbia, South Carolina, and was burned, so far as appears from the proof, by the soldiers of General Sherman's army, without any order to that effect from the commanding officer.

In addition, the houses burned were in South Carolina, one of the States lately in rebellion, and the case comes within the resolution adopted by the House in relation to claims of this class from such States.

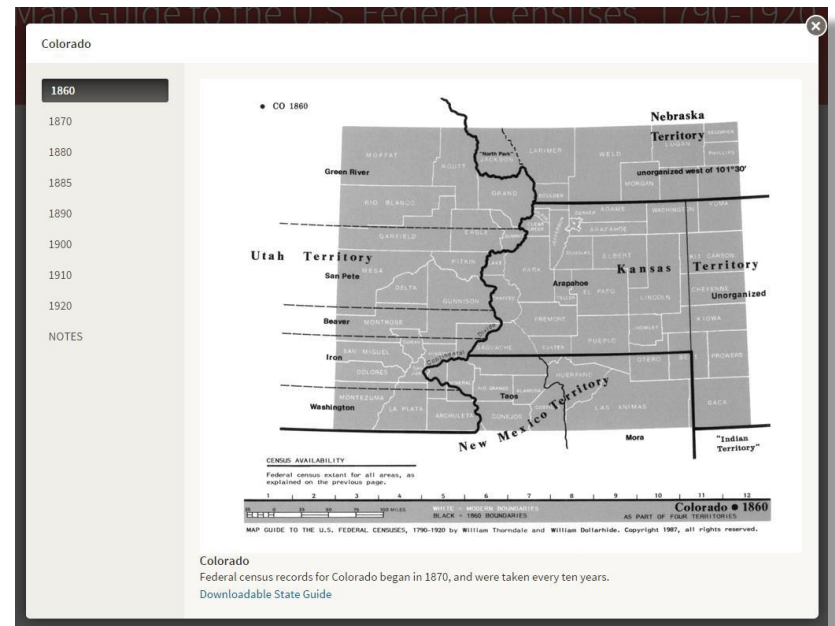

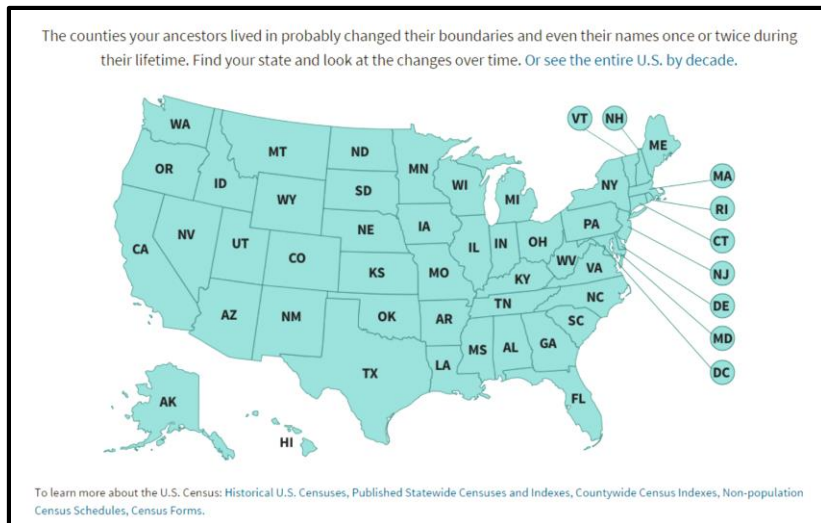

The committee therefore recommend that the claim be laid on the table, and that they be discharged from any further consideration of the same.
